

Why choose A-level Religious Studies

- What is the meaning of life?
- How do we know what is right?
- Why do people believe in religion?

A-level Religious studies offers an interesting and intellectually challenging level of understanding.

It develops a variety of skills, including those of discussion and debate. The valuable skills of logical argument and cultural evaluation are also developed and can be transferred to other areas of study.

What topics will you study?

- Ancient Greek Philosophy
- Death and afterlife
- Problem of Evil
- Religious Experience
- Body, Soul and Mind
- Normative Ethics
- Applied Ethics
- Conscience
- Liberation Theology
- Gender and Society
- Challenge of secularism

Entry requirements

5 GCSE's at Grade 5 or better, including a grade 5 in English Language.

Possible career options

Studying RS at university can give you a whole host of exciting career options, including:

- Legal sector
- Education
- Doctor
- Journalism
- Police
- Armed forces
- Politicians
- Nursing
- Social work

Assessment

There are three exams, each accounts for one third of your A-level. The three exams are 2 hours each and consist of three essay style questions.

Chilwell School Sixth Form

chilwellschool.co.uk/sixthform